AIN KHALED CAMPUS

This email is for parents of students in Preschool to Year 13.

Dear Parents,

Eid Mubarak to you and your family. I am writing to thank you all for your continued support during this ongoing period of 100% online learning. The levels of engagement with online learning from all our students have been excellent and our students continue to make excellent academic progress, despite the challenges they are all facing.

As we look forward to the remainder of the term, if parents could maintain the high standards we have set, in terms of student engagement, students dressed in their DBS uniforms each day and ensuring cameras are on during live lessons. This provides our students some normality and routine that is so important during this period.

Eid al Fitr break

Please be informed that we received notification yesterday of a change to this year's school calendar for all private schools. The final day of online learning for our students will now be today (Thursday May 6th) and lessons will resume online on Wednesday May 19th. This early celebration of Eid al Fitr replaces the previously published half-term break which was scheduled to begin a week later. My apologies for any inconvenience that this adjustment may cause.

Internal examinations

This will inevitably impact on the scheduled internal examination period for our Year 11/12/13 students, and therefore adjustments have had to be made to the examination calendar. Examinations that were due to take place next week have now been postponed until after the half term break. A new copy of the exam timetable will be posted to students via their Google Classrooms, by the end of the day, and this will identify the new dates and times of the postponed exams. If you have any concerns or worries around this, please contact Mr. Mohammad Salam (mohammad.salam@dohabritishschool.com) who will be happy to help and support you.

School Day

The school day will revert back to normal hours following Ramadan on Wednesday 19th May (week A) and we will continue to deliver lessons 100% online until further notice.
